

Abstract

In the paper we introduce definition of grid domains, spaces and operators for a operator-difference scheme approximating a stationary problem on viscous incompressible fluid motion in closed domain in the presence of temperature distributions. The conditions are obtained and a theorem on the convergence of a difference scheme to the solution of boundary-value problem is proved.