

Abstract

In the paper we consider systems of sines and cosines with complex-valued phases. The basicity of such systems in weight spaces is established under definite conditions on jumps of a real part of these phases and weight functions.